

In April 1896, the lite of the ancient Olympic Games was rekindled at the first modern olympics in Athens Greece. The tradition was restart by Baron Pierre de Coubertin of france. Athlete had not competed in an Olympics in 1500 years. Today they engage in summer and winter sports such as biking basketball and hockey. The ancient greeks could never have imagine sports such as those!