

Nouns - Fill in the Blanks

"Cooking with Nouns"

Hey man, hey, I'm really hungry.

Yeah, me too Frankie.

Alright, well...

I heard of a new spot in town.

Well alright, I'll try it as long as it's not too fancy.

Have you heard about a chef named Shelly?

She cooks up food that you can put into your belly.

It's always tasty, and it's never smelly.

Well, hey, is there anything else that you can tell me?

Yes! She does things a little different,

And cooks up nouns when she's working in the kitchen.

Well, how?

What, you don't know about a noun?

It's a person, place, thing, or idea.

Oh, I know now.

Like for breakfast, the chef cooked eggs from a farm,

And she drank milk from cows in a barn.

What about an idea? You can't cook that!

But she cooked with some love when she made flapjacks.

Most nouns you can feel with the senses, but ideas you have to think about.

Oh, I get this.

After cooking, Shelly was looking around,

And saw we were ready to devour some nouns.

The flapjacks, eggs and milk weren't enough,

So she went into the kitchen and made some other stuff:

Apple frittata, spaghetti and meatballs,

Lobsters from Maine and some tacos with cheese sauce.

Excuse me, but I only eat nouns.

Well, you can eat all of these! That's how we get down.

How?

Cooking in the kitchen with Shelly for sure,

Using nouns all around, yeah I know you heard.

Look, there she is!

I'm the chef and I love to cook.

I have a lot of nouns in my recipe book.

Places, things, ideas and people,

When it comes to a chef there is no equal.

I'm in the kitchen and I love getting down.

Cooking with What?! I'm cooking with nouns.

Maybe one day I'll make it out to your town,

Cause I'm cooking with What?! I'm cooking with nouns.

Now Chef Shelly had a friend coming by,

So all of her nouns needed to get _____.

Usually you just add an "s,"

And things that are single are more and not less.

But some nouns are unique,

Like the two fish that she just caught from the creek.

She cuts with one knife, Choosing from a few knives,

And she chews with her teeth, not tooths. That's right.

It's her friend, Miss Proper

She gets real specific and nobody can stop her.

She came in her car. Well, what kind?

A Ford. How many more _____ can you find?

Well, she brought grapes over from the state of Oregon,

From a farmer, I mean from Farmer Morgan.

Most of the time they get _____,

There's so many proper nouns right in front of your eyes.

I tell you what, man.

What?

All this talk about nouns has got me mighty hungry.

Yeah, me too, Frankie.

Well let's have a roll call.

Ok, let's count 'em down.

Here we go.

C'mon!

_____: me, your teacher, Ms. Brown

_____: Venice Beach, or a building downtown

_____: Hula hoops, a wolf or this song

_____: I feel hunger, but I won't for long, 'cause...

I'm the chef and I love to cook.

I have a lot of nouns in my recipe book.

Places, things, ideas and people,

When it comes to a chef there is no equal.

I'm in the kitchen and I love getting down.

Cooking with What?! I'm cooking with nouns.

Maybe one day I'll make it out to your town,

Cause I'm cooking with What?! I'm cooking with nouns.

Well hey man, Chef Shelly, you are the bomb dotcom. You know what I'm saying?

I know, right?

I mean...

That was the best meal I've ever had.

I have never had this food so good.

I've never...

And who would have thought it was all just a bunch of nouns.

I know, it's crazy!

Everything's a noun!

Yup.

Just about... I mean, a person a place or a thing

Yeah, even ideas too.

And I'm out. Peace
