

Have you ever heard the saying, "April showers bring May flowers?" That is because April is known for being very rainy. May is known for being the first warm month of the year when flowers begin blooming. People feel better on rainy April days when they think of the warm weather and pretty flowers that are right around the corner