Insert a page break, so that everything below this is on page two. (Do NOT just hit enter a whole bunch of times!)

Take this document and change the layout, so that it is LANDSCAPE (wide and short), not PORTRAIT (tall and narrow)

Change the margins so that they are Narrow

Indent the entire paragraph below (not just the first line!) (without using the space bar!)

Barber was born on October 14, 1983, in Winnipeg, Manitoba, Canada. He cites some of his influences as Townes Van Zandt, Greg Brown, John Prine, Emmylou Harris, Steve Earle, Wilco, Bruce Springsteen, Neil Young, Gram Parsons, Bob Dylan, Lucinda Williams, Loretta Lynn, Mississippi John Hurt, Ramblin' Jack Elliot, Merle Haggard, The Band, and Ryan Adams. Del is also influenced by authors such as Farley Mowat, Wendell Berry, Jack Kerouac, and Kathleen Norris.

Take the paragraph below and insert a HANGING indent (everything will be indented EXCEPT the first line)

After the release of two early albums, Barber went back into the studio to record his eleven track album "Where the City Ends." With many positive reviews of this album, he continued to tour extensively in support of the album. In 2010, Barber released what would be considered his fourth entitled Love Songs for the Last Twenty. Once again, Barber had critical success with the album and continued to tour extensively. In August 2010, Barber was nominated for a Western Canadian Music Award for Roots Solo Album of the Year for Where the City Ends. The album also received a second nomination for Best Album Design of the Year which album designer Brooke Nelson was nominated. In 2011, he was nominated for a Juno Award for Roots & Traditional Album of the Year for "Love Songs of the Last Twenty." On April 11, 2011 Barber appeared as the musical guest and interview on CBC Q with Jian Ghomeshi. The show was taped live as a part of The Winnipeg Comedy Festival. Barber performed "Miles & Years" and "As Far As I Can Tell.

Take this text, and make it Word Art

Find a photo of your favourite musician. Place it below. Make sure that you put a hyperlink to the photo's source (where you got it from. If your link says the word GOOGLE in it, it is WRONG)

Take the photo above and change its LAYOUT so that it is TIGHT or SQUARE.

Find another photo (either clip art or from the Internet) and put it on this page. Change the LAYOUT so that it is BEHIND TEXT. Change the colour effect, so it is WASHOUT.

Insert a TABLE below. It should be 4 columns wide, and 4 rows high. The headings for your table will be:
Favourite Musician/Band

Name	Age	Favourite Song	Favourite Musician/Band
Misterjrobson	Old	Kiss Catastrophe	The Damnwells
Jeremy	11	Happy Birthday	Marshmallow
Carter	19	Crazy Train	Ozzy Osborne

Shade in the headings.
Centre the headings

Fill out the information in each of the cells with friends, family members, or people you make up.

Below, you will be creating a different kind of table. Instead of lining it up in the boxes, Mr. Robson will show you how to set tabs to make things line up properly.

- The first column (Year) should have a DECIMAL tab
- The second column (Nominated Work) should have a LEFT tab
- The third column (Event) should have a CENTRE tab
- The fourth column (Award) should have a CENTRE tab
- The fifth column (Result) should have a RIGHT tab
